Colleague Privacy Notice

Policy No. HR-118. Owner: Office of Privacy. Effective July 1, 2025.

1. What This Notice Covers

This notice explains what personal information Meridian Financial Group collects about colleagues, why we collect it, and the choices colleagues have. It covers information held in human resources systems, payroll, benefits administration, and the collaboration tools provided for work.

2. Categories We Collect

Category	Examples	Typical retention
Identification	Name, colleague ID, work contact details	Employment plus 7 years
Compensation	Salary, bonus, equity, payroll deductions	Employment plus 7 years
Health and absence	Absence dates, accommodation requests	Employment plus 3 years
Performance	Reviews, goals, development plans	Employment plus 3 years
Workplace systems	Access badge events, device inventory	24 months

3. Minimum Necessary

Colleagues who handle another colleague's personal information must use the minimum amount needed for the task at hand. A manager approving an absence needs the dates and the approval status. A manager does not need, and must not request, a diagnosis, a treatment plan, or the name of a treating clinician.

4. Working Copies

A working copy is any export, spreadsheet, screenshot, or note that contains colleague personal information and lives outside the system of record. Delete working copies within thirty (30) days of completing the task. Do not place a working copy in a shared team folder, a personal drive, or an external tool that has not been approved by Technology Risk.

5. Reporting a Privacy Incident

Report a suspected incident within twenty-four (24) hours to the Office of Privacy using the Privacy Incident form in People Central. An incident includes sending personal information to the wrong recipient, losing a device that holds a working copy, or discovering that a report contains more information than the recipient needs. Do not attempt to recall or delete evidence before reporting.

> If you are unsure whether something is an incident, report it. The Office of Privacy would rather close a report than learn about an issue late.

Fictional sample content created for a search demo. Not a real policy.

6. Colleague Rights

Depending on where you work, you may have the right to access the personal information we hold about you, to ask for a correction, and to object to certain processing. Submit a request through the Privacy Request form. We respond within thirty days or the period required by local law, whichever is shorter.

Fictional sample content created for a search demo. Not a real policy.